

Header

Images are important, you want to get the most amount of impact by having an eye catching image at the top of your page with your event name prominent. Your customers will know immediately this is the place to buy tickets.

Copy

You'll want to be short and sweet and to the point. You want your clients to spend only a few moments on the page, but it needs to be informative as well. Here you'll want to give your clients specific info about your event.

Ticket Box

This is the reason they are on your page. It is here you can add you different ticket levels and get all the fun details that you need from your customers.

Coupons and Convenience Fees

This is the part of your form where you can cover along your fees to your customer, if you desire. These are invaluable finance tools that create a wonderful User Experience for you and your clients.

Terms

This nifty field exists so you can outline your refund policy, age policy, and other legal information that your clients need to know. You can even collect a signature as proof of agreement.

➔ Click here to see it in action!

Click here to find more info at TicketSpice's Knowledgebase!